

The Official Spanish Chamber of Commerce in Belgium and Luxembourg raffles 5 double tickets for the Brussels International Fantastic Film Festival, dedicated to horror, thriller y science fiction movies. The chosen film is the Spanish Killing God (Matar a Dios), which won the Audience Award at the last Sitges film festival. The film is the first feature by filmmakers Caye Casas and Albert Pintó, a pitch-black comedy with a religious alibi, in the vein of Álex de la Iglesia's The Day of the Beast (BIFFF 1996). The cast includes Emilio Gavira (Blancanieves, Mortadelo and Filemón), Eduardo Antuña (800 bullets, Torrente 4) and Itziar Castro ([REC] 3: Genesis).

The film will be projected on April 4 at 6:30 pm in Bozar in Spanish, with subtitles in English, French and Dutch.

To participate just send an email to info@e-camara.com with the subject BIFFF, indicating your first and last name and also of your companion.
